

Supply Chain Services

Signode now offers a comprehensive internal logistics infrastructure and process improvement solutions and services. Also, Signode has partnered with the leading global logistics technology solutions providers for process specific solutions.

With the experience of implementing best practices in packaging and identification, handling, storage and shipment practices, Signode is well placed to successfully marry finishing line automation with internal logistics process automation systems in a seamless and visible manner at optimum cost.

Leveraging the understanding of finishing processes, Signode has been looking for ways to contribute to metals industry's business end to end. Reduction of total cost of operations (TCO) is the expanded focus.
